It is the offspring of a conversation I had with my older sister several months ago. As I recall, we were talking about men, as we often do, and my sister made the comment Momma never told us about that . Her statement struck a chord in me and as our conversation progressed, we both came to the realization that our mother never had conversations with us about much of anything pertaining to love, life choices, sex, men, money or religion. We never discussed matters of the heart.
